In When Hope and Fear Collide: A Portrait of Today's College Students, published by Jossey-Bass, authors Arthur Levine and Jeannette S. Cureton paint a disturbing portrait of the turmoil undergraduates are going through. Their work, which was funded by the Lilly Foundation, is based on surveys of nearly 10,000 undergraduates nationwide, 270 student affairs officers at two- and four-year colleges across the country, and on a series of daylong
